STEVE ROYE

This native Texan joined the Navy in 1978 and rose to the top of the enlisted ranks. He returned to San Diego from a tour of duty in the Persian Gulf in 1992, and made the decision to launch a comedy career. A year later, he was the blowout winner of a military comedy competition at Camp Pendleton, the world's largest Marine Corps base.

Almost overnight, Steve had a comedy routine powerful enough to entice large audiences to come and watch him perform. By 1995, Steve was frequently headlining comedy and concert venues in Southern California and the surrounding states.

Now retired from the Navy after 20 years of service, Steve's comedy career continues to grow beyond his wildest dreams. His real life, clean, adult comedy approach has put him in the corporate entertainment arena as well as performing aboard luxury cruise ships. He has also written several interactive courses on stand-up comedy that are being distributed internationally and are available in multiple formats at his website www.killerstandup.com.
